A GOOD SERVICE AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

We have been handed the following article, by Rev. T. R. Stroup, now pastor of the Baptist Church at Morehouse. The Reverend was a former pastor in this city, and is well liked. The article also relates to a former citizen of this city, at one time a teacher in our grade school. We are glad to publish it to our readers as there is much interesting matter in it. It is as follows:

Sunday evening, May the 30th, had been fixed for the ordination of John Rose, as the rain fell upon that date the matter was deferred until Monday evening, at which time the Church met in conference, with the following pastors present:

Revs. Elbert Owen of Oran, W. M. Wigger of Marble Hill, R. C. Greenway of Sikeston, M. F. Jones of Brown Spur, Henry Eaton of our city, and T. R. Stroup, pastor of the Morehouse church, composed the presbytery.

After a delightful song service by the excellent choir, and prayer by Rev. M. F. Jones, the examination began, led by Rev. Greenway, and for quite awhile he propounded questions fast and sharp pertaining to the doctrines of the bible, which Bro. Rose answered as quickly as asked.

After Bro. Greenway was satisfied, the entire presbytery turned their theological artillery upon him, one after another taking a shot at him. Bro. Rose being fortified behind the word of God, returned the fire with like rapidity, and when the smoke and dust had cleared away it was found that the candidate had gained the victory by making an average of 99 per cent on the most rigid test.

After the examination was announced satisfactory, and the church had passed and advised the ordination, then Sister Rose came to the rostrum and rendered one of the sweetest solos to which we ever listened, leaving all on "higher ground" and ready to receive the wonderful message which was delivered by Bro. Owen, that prince of preachers from Oran, who he is pastor of that flock of the Ozarks.

With grace and dignity did he render that wonderful message, "Preach Jesus." This great sermon will live in the hearts of those who heard it for years to come, and we trust it shall ring out from the hearts of men blessings, inspiration, and zeal which shall touch other hearts, and they shall be revived by the same as drooping vegetation by the gentle spring showers.

After the sermon Bro. Swanner prayed the ordination prayer. It seemed so fitting that this man of God should perform this sacred service; he who buried this man in baptism, and who was Moderator when he was licensed to preach, now has the sweet and happy privilege to invoke the blessings of God upon his life and work, as he shall go out into the world to call men and women to a better life.

Bro. Rose is well known in Morehouse, the town of his boyhood and is loved by all who know him, and his many friends are sure he shall be a channel of blessings to the world with such a noble wife to help him in his life's work. We bespeak great things for them as they go out to labor under God.

The Dorris Theatre program is becoming bigger and better each week. On Tuesday nights is shown the thrilling serial, "Invisible Hand," featuring Antonio Moreno, and Thursday nights "Smashing Barriers" featuring William Duncan, which pictures a young man overcoming obstacles in making life a success. Barriers obstruct his way even in his romance. The manager, Wilbur Stewart, and its owner, H. Henderson, are sparing no expense in giving the public what they desire in the best features each night. Much good comment is heard almost every day regarding the excellent pictures being shown, and we are informed of many contemplated improvements to be made.

F. M. NORMAN ANNOUNCES FOR SENATOR

F. M. Norman, a prominent citizen of Bloomfield, was here a few hours today, looking after his political fences, he being a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator.

F. M. NORMAN

The above is a good likeness of him, and he is just as determined fellow as his picture implies.

We are personally acquainted with Mr. Norman and have known him for several years, while the editor was in the newspaper business in Stoddard county, and know that he is one in whom confidence can be placed, and who will look after the interests of his constituents.

He was at one time a member of the State Legislature, and made most commendable record, and held in the highest esteem by his acquaintances.

It was thought for awhile that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, but upon the entering of our own Boyard in the race, Mr. Norman did not care to sacrifice the chances of his party for self aggrandizement.

CROWE & HOBBS NOW AT STEELE, MISSOURI

The evangelists, Revs. Crowe and Hobbs, who so successfully conducted the largest revival meeting Hayti ever had, will begin a Tabernacle Meeting at Steele June 13th.

While the ministers themselves are of different denominational beliefs they are in the same field—doing the same work—leading unsaved souls toward Christ. Their meetings are for no special church; they are for the benefit of the people at large regardless of their church affiliation.

The people of Steele are endeavoring to, and they will erect a tabernacle in which to conduct their meetings.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC

By way of introduction and announcement, I wish to say that the Baptist church of Hayti has extended a call to the writer and he has accepted, and am now here in the work. And, may I say that I only have one object in view in coming here and that, the spreading of the Kingdom of God. There will be services every Sunday; Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock; Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. You are not worshipping somewhere else, come worship with us. Every one is invited.

A. H. DACE, Pastor
